My great-great-grandfather was Jonathan, Jr., fourth child of Jonathan, Sr. He resided on Clover Fork, Harlan County, for many years and what I can learn about him was a colorful character. He was Justice of the Peace for some time and went by the title of Judge Kelly. I have copies of two letters written by him, one to the editor of THE OBSERVER, Harlan County newspaper. In it he reports a political meeting he attended, where the speaker was a Mr. Pillecher who spoke six hours, mostly in abuse of the Whigs and Henry Clay. Grandfather voices disapproval of this speech and ends his letter by saying, "I'll tell you, Mr. Pillecher cannot get many votes in Harlan." Before coming to Harlan County Jonathan lived in Barbourville and was a close friend of Silas Woodson who moved to Missouri and became Governor of the state. Later he visited the Kellys on Clover Fork and Jonathan's last son was named for him, Silas Woodson Kelly.

The second letter which I have was written to a Stephen P. Jackson (I don't know where) in 1843 and is in regard to the estate of a Captain John Bailey who seems to have had some land in Kentucky and Jonathan is interested in the Kentucky heirs getting their share of the estate. No one who has read this letter has been able to identify this John Bailey and I am interested in contacting anyone with any information on the subject.

Jonathan Kelly, Jr. and Nancy Bailey had nine children: William B., b. 1819; Elizabeth, b. 1821; Joseph S., b. 1824; Patience, born 1826; Alexander, b. 1828; John, b. 1831; Mary, b. 1834; Wright, born 1838; Silas Woodson, b. 1840. By his second wife, Jonathan had two children - Araminta and Luther.

My great-grandfather was the third child of this family, Joseph S. Kelly. He was married to Delilah Parsons, daughter of Joseph Parsons and Margaret Pennington of Lee County. Joseph was the second son of Samuel Parsons who lived in Harlan County for a time but returned to Lee County. Both Joseph S. Kelly and his brother, Alexander, died in 1858 with typhoid. They were aged 34 and 30. (See Query page).

HALDEMAN--HAYS CROSSING COMMUNITIES

Compiled from a history of the community written by Lloyd Dean in 1953

There are several neighborhoods in the Haldeman--Hays Crossing area. Earliest Haldeman history dates back to 1779 when all of Kentucky was a part of Virginia. Early settlers were Bells, Christians, Cunninghams, Powers, Thomas, Richards, Hays and Cornette. Others who came later were families by name of Sparks, Stinsons, Bowens, Sturgill, Dean, Rice, Cox, Click, Hortons, Kegleys, Stevens, Pelfery, Mabry, Lyons, Fultz, Bailey, Haldeman, Conley, Stewart, Hall, Turners, Wilson, Eldridge, Kitchen, Clark, Reeder, Oney, and others. During middle 1800s Richards were scattered in the community and they are buried in little cemetery at Hays Crossing.

John Wesley Hays who was a civil war veteren came to Haldeman from Letcher County around 1850. He purchased land from the Richards family a track from Buffalo to Gates. This land was rich in clay. These veins were mined for years, first by the Louisville and Portsmouth FireBrick Company before Kentucky Fire Brick took over.

The C & O Railroad ran through the community with stops at Gates, Hays Crossing and Haldeman. Before 1880 Hays Crossing was known as Highland Point, and was a switch point for C & O Railroad freight trains as well as a regular stop. After the Hays family was established in the community it took the name of Hays Crossing.

In the late 1880s Mr. W.A. Conley, a dry goods salesman operating from Portsmouth to Morehead and traveling through the country, by covered wagon to peddle his goods, bought land rich in clay veins in the community. He formed a partnership with the Louisville Company which constructed a brickyard.

The Haldeman High School had a modern gym, equipped with bleachers stage and electric scoreboard, a spacious stage with a new set of curtains, costing $900.00 provided by the P.T.A. The school was known throughout Eastern Kentucky for outstanding athletes.

There were three seperate school buildings in the community, Haldeman High, Haldeman Grade and Little Perry. Haldeman schools had approximately 350 students and Little Perry, twenty-eight.

In the early 40s one of the brick yards closed and the company sold out to the General Refractories. Employment dropped from 300 to 85. In 1945 the Eleventh and Twelfth grades at Haldeman were transferred to Morehead High.

Other families in community are Messer, Hicks, Binion, Creech, Adkins, Cartee, Miller, Parker, Blevins, May, Barker, Puckett, Fraley, Howard, Plank, Cline, Caudill, Amburgey, Roberts, Johnson, Fultz and others.

Hi Lloyd:

Thanks for getting back to me so quickly. I would appreciate receiving a copy of your reunion book. I've attached a listing of the surnames that I am researching. We have some in common. Listed below are the surnames that we have in common and the information that I have on those families. We are probably going to run across some that are the same, especially the ones from Harlan County, KY. We estimate that we are probably related to about 90% of the people in Harlan. My parents were born and raised in Harlan County a little town called Dizney. I've highlighted my parents in yellow and my husband's parents in blue.
